Dear Friends,

I am writing to express my sincere appreciation for the time, energy, and commitment that your company has expended in responding to the current Gulf Oil Spill emergency. This is a serious issue affecting all of us and I am heartened to learn of this Massachusetts-based effort to assist in the cleanup.

According to the Deepwater Horizon Response website, from the start of cleanup efforts until today, 28.6 million gallons of oily water have been collected. I read in the Boston Globe about your company's invaluable contributions, from guiding seaworthy data-collecting robots to analyzing oil and water samples to supplying crews for cleanup teams and on-the-water oil containment efforts. The rapid response of your staff in deploying their knowledge and expertise to remedy this oil spill disaster is critical. I am proud of your involvement in this effort.

Thank you again for your dedication and hard work to help mitigate the impact of this ongoing disaster.

Sincerely,
